

I know that buying equipment and stocking up on supplies can be expensive! If you lack the financial means to prep your household, you can also learn skills that you can barter/trade with for supplies or to make yourself essential to a network of people. This is also a list of things that might be helpful for your "circle of trust" and household to learn for the times ahead. If anything, buy books on these subjects to have on hand with the rest of your supplies...

tire repair	sewing (both clothing & wounds) tracking time (sun)	car mechanics herbal medicine	hand tools/repair making soap (from wood ash/lye)	building/construction candle making	engineering making butter, cheese	welding canning food	weaving dehydrating food	midwifery solar oven baking	psychology seasonal cooking	medical/nursing smoking food	fist aid/CPR rendering fats	dentistry brewing/distilling	chiropractic tapping maple trees	veteranarian wild edibles	gun smithing mushrooming	black smithing hydroponics	reloading ammo aquaponics	tying knots root cellar bild and care	sharpening tools homemade skincare	using a compass homemade cleaning care	preparing firewood hand laundry	weather forecasting straw bale gardening	waste management planting trees/arborist	leadership surveillance	plumbing starting a fire (non-Antifa)	pest control (includes liberals) composting	electrician animal husbandry	martial arts raising bees (honey/wax)	shooting dressing/cleaning animals	sniping hunting/trapping	night vision archery	hand-to-hand combat tracking	morse code
fishing	hand signaling butchering	water collection foraging	water purification tanning skins	water distilling pastoral duties faraday cage build